II.

GENERAL ALLEGATIONS

18 On or before November 6, 2002, under the threat of condemnation, the City and/or HOA (hereinafter collectively referred to as "the City"), David Roark and Priority One began to purchase Condominiums in Decatur and Shalimar Gardens located on Laurelhurst Drive and Westmoreland Drive, near the corner of Decatur Boulevard and Vegas Drive, in the City of Las Vegas, State of Nevada (hereinafter "subject area").

19 The subject area is located in Las Vegas City Council Ward One.

20 McDonald was the City Councilman for Ward One from 1999 until 2003.

21 Upon information and belief, McDonald, as Councilman of Ward One, was the driving force behind the City's acquisition of the subject area.

22 Alpha Omega Strategies Inc., has been incorporated in the State of Nevada since 1998, with McDonald as both President and Treasurer.

23 On or before July of 2002, the City and David Roark created an agency agreement with Priority One, whereby Priority One solicited property acquisitions for the City by sending Land Sale Contracts in the mail to all property owners in the subject area.

24 Plaintiffs ("Landowners") declined to accept the City's offered purchase price, provided by Priority One in the above mentioned Land Sale Contracts because they could not relocate for the price the City was offering.

25 As a result, on or about March of 2003, after the Landowners continued to decline the City's

1 offer, David Roark, along with Priority One's agents Cynthia Inman and her assistant Holly Shayka,
2 attended the homeowners' association meetings of Decatur Gardens. At this meeting, David Roark
3 and Priority One agents announced to the Landowners that if they did not sell their property to the 4 City at that time, the price for the Landowners' property would only start declining.

5 26 At this point, the City, David Roark and Priority One acting on behalf of the City, started to 6 implement the use of scare tactics to persuade property owners in Decatur and Shalimar Gardens
7 to sell their property to the City.

8 27 For example, the City, David Roark and Priority One told the Landowners that they, unlike 9 every other property owner in the Las Vegas Valley, were not entitled to the increase in property
10 values that had occurred over the past year, because the Landowners had refused to accept the City's 11 first offer in 2002.

12 28 Then, the City, David Roark and Priority One, through Holly Shayka, told the Landowners, 13 that it was the Landowners fault for not selling in 2002 and, therefore, the City would not pay the 14 Landowners the current fair market value for the Landowners' property, and would only pay the 15 Landowners the 2002 value for the Subject Properties in violation of Nevada law.

16 29 In an attempt to reason with the City, the Landowners provided current comparable sales to 17 the City, David Roark and Priority One to illustrate the insufficiency of the City's offer, for the 18 Landowners could not find comparable housing to relocate to for the amount of money the City
19 wanted to pay them for their homes.

20 30 But the City, David Roark and Priority One still refused to pay the Landowners the current 21 value for their property.

22 31 Then, on or about January of 2003, the City, David Roark and Priority One told tenants of 23 Decatur and Shalimar Gardens that they had to move out of their rented condominiums or the City
24 and David Roark would kick them out. This willful and wonton behavior by the City (and/or HOA), 25 David Roark and Priority One was a concerted effort to deprive the Landowners of rent profits.

26 32 This was one of the first of several attempts by the City, David Roark and Priority One,
27 acting as an agent of the City, to create a financial hardship for the Landowners in an effort to force
28 the Landowners to sell their property to the City.

1 33 Towards the middle or the end of 2003, the City, David Roark and Priority One, as agent of 2 the City, were able to purchase all but six condominiums, in the subject area, at or substantially
3 below fair market value, by threatening to use the City's recognized power of eminent domain.
4 Additionally, the Defendants made other false and misleading statements to the Landowners
5 regarding the ownership of their homes and how the City was going to end up with the property in 6 the end no matter what happened.

7 34 The Landowners are the only private property owners who remain in Decatur and Shalimar
8 Gardens as the City has acquired all other units under the threat of eminent domain.

9 35 At this point, the City, David Roark and Priority One told the Landowners, if the Landowners
10 were not going to sell their property to the City, then the City, David Roark and consequently 11 McDonald's company, Alpha Omega Strategies, would just build around the Landowners.

12 36 Before long and with no resolution of need and necessity the Defendants, collectively or 13 individually, began a systematic campaign to take, damage and destroy the Landowners' property.

14 37 As owners of property at the subject area the City is bound by the Covenants, Conditions and 15 Restrictions which govern Decatur and Shalimar Gardens ("CC&Rs").

16 38 Since the City owned a majority of the condominiums in Decatur and Shalimar Gardens, the 17 City and David Roark knowingly, purposely and maliciously abruptly stopped payment of the 18 association dues, in violation of the CC&Rs.

19 39 This refusal to pay association dues is yet another instance of the City and David Roark 20 causing financial hardship to the Landowners. The Landowners were then forced to carry the entire 21 costs of the insurance, water, sewer, garbage collection, landscape and building maintenance for their 22 entire condominium community, even though the City, David Roark and the Defendant Contractors 23 continued to use said common utilities and services.

24 40 The City and David Roark knowingly refused to pay their share of the association dues in an 25 attempt to force the remaining landowners to sell their property to the City for less than the 26 properties fair market value.

27 41 Then, late in the summer of 2003 the Defendants, collectively or individually, purposely,
28 knowingly, and maliciously under the direct supervision of David Roark came to Decatur Gardens

1 to destroy the Landowners' pool.

2 42 To no avail, the Landowner's tried to stave off the destruction of their pool, but David Roark
3 had sheriffs present to prevent any protests. The pool was destroyed with a back hoe and then filled
4 in with dirt, under the direct and present supervision of David Roark.

5 43 All the improvements, including the pool were/are part of the condominium community
6 common elements ("Common Elements") and are held equally between all owners. The City had 7 neither the right nor the permission to take and/or destroy the Landowners' property.

8 44 By destroying the pool, the Landowners' families were stripped of the ability to enjoy their 9 pool during the hot Las Vegas summers.

10 45 The Defendants did not stop at the pool, they next began to create a hostile living
11 environment so intolerable that the Landowners would have no other choice but to accept the City's 12 outdated 2002 offer.

13 46 The Defendants boarded up all the units they owned causing the appearance of an abandoned 14 premises.

15 47 After leaving the subject area boarded up for an extended period of time, the City then 16 returned with heavy equipment to begin demolishing the subject area, despite the fact that the 17 Landowners still lived in their homes and had ownership rights in the common elements.

18 48 When the City returned, the Defendants, collectively or individually, purposely and 19 maliciously erected gates and cement blockades that surrounded the Landowners' property in 20 violation of the contractual obligation imposed by the CC&Rs. Defendants' gates prevented the 21 Landowners from leaving or entering their individual buildings. Defendants' gates prevented
22 Landowners from getting to their homes and prevented garbage removal companies from servicing 23 the subject properties. The Landowners were forced to climb over Defendants barbed wire gates to 24 get to their homes.

25 49 The Defendants' gates also barricaded the Landowners' automobiles for numerous days
26 preventing the Landowners from using their vehicles and causing extreme inconvenience and 27 annoyance.

28 50 Then Defendants, collectively or individually, purposely, knowingly, and maliciously

1 destroyed and physically blocked access points, parking spaces and easements to the subject property
2 in violation of the contractual obligations imposed by the CC&Rs.

3 51 The Defendants also, collectively or individually, purposely, knowingly, and maliciously
4 removed security lights on and around the subject area causing a highly unsafe situation. The 5 Landowners have been forced to install bars and other security devices to protect against the 6 extremely unsafe environment the Defendants have created.

7 52 Prior to and continuing after February 2004, the Defendants, collectively or individually,
8 purposely, knowingly, and maliciously interfered and tampered with services, including garbage
9 collection, power, and telephone services in an effort to make the Landowners' living conditions so 10 poor that it would force the Landowners to accept the City's low 2002 purchase price.

11 53 The demolition activities, the Defendants unlawfully undertook, began at 6:30 a.m. and 12 continued until 4:00 p.m.. These activities caused extreme noise consisting of machinery, yelling, 13 and banging in the immediate vicinity of the Landowners' homes. The Landowners were unable to 14 sleep at night in fear for their safety and unable to sleep during the day because of said noise. The 15 Landowners have suffered from stress and exhaustion as a result of Defendants activities, and in one 16 instance resulting in hospitalization.

17 54 While demolishing the subject area the Defendants, collectively or individually, purposely,
18 knowingly and maliciously left water running in one of the City's condominiums and utilized
19 Decatur Gardens water source for its demolition activities. This caused a drastic increase in Decatur 20 Gardens' water bill, which the Landowners were being forced to carry alone because the City and 21 David Roark refused to pay its share. This was yet another effort to cause financial harm to the 22 Landowners to force the Landowners to accept the City's outdated 2002 offer. The City is 23 responsible for this water bill and should be ordered to pay said bill.

24 55 While destroying part of the common area, the Defendants, collectively or individually,
25 destroyed a private sprinkler system owned by the Landowner. When Defendants dug up this private 26 sprinkler system, they caused severe flooding which created large pools of water to form around the 27 Landowner's building. Due to the destruction of this sprinkler system the Landowner's trees, plants, 28 and yard have now died.

1 56 The Defendants, collectively or individually, also removed or destroyed the Landowners'
2 alarm system.

3 57 Next the City and David Roark attempted to force the Landowners into relocating their utility
4 boxes because the City was planning on demolishing half of the building in which the Landowners
5 lived. Based upon information and belief, the Landowners' building would not have withstood
6 partial demolition. And this proposed relocation would have cost thousands of dollars. This was 7 another attempt by the City and David Roark to cause the Landowners fear, to force them to sell
8 their property to the City for the City's 2002 purchase price. (See Exhibit 1)

9 58 Then, Defendants, collectively or individually, knowingly, intentionally, and maliciously
10 caused the Landowners to go without water, power and telephone services for extended periods of 11 time.

12 59 Next, Defendants, collectively or individually, in violation of the contractual obligations
13 imposed by the CC&Rs, severed sewer pipes, stacked debris alongside the Landowners' buildings 14 consisting of dirty toilets, mattresses, sinks, stoves and other dangerous remains causing health and 15 safety hazards. These health and safety hazards were not only abhorring to view, but also created
16 a nauseating stench which was intolerable. (See Exhibit 2)

17 60 Then, while gutting the other units, in violation of the CC&Rs, the Defendants, collectively
18 or individually caused large amounts of water to enter, flood, and damage the Landowners' homes.

19 61 Meanwhile, Defendants, collectively and individually, harassed the Landowners and their 20 family and friends, constantly threatening the Landowners with arrest, simply because the 21 Landowners' were trying to use their own property. Defendant George Morris on numerous 22 occasions threatened to have the Landowners arrested for using their own property.

23 62 Further, Defendants, collectively and individually, instructed the Landowners' family
24 members and friends that they were not allowed to come into Decatur Gardens, thereby preventing 25 the Landowners from seeing their family and friends.

26 63 Now everyday the Landowners come home they are fearful that someone has broken into 27 their homes because the Defendants have created an environment that gives the appearance of 28 abandoned property which attracts vagrants and criminals.

1 64 Vagrants and criminals have entered the City's units, in the Landowners' complex, in the 2 middle of the night and created commotions which caused the Landowners and their families to fear
3 for their lives.

4 65 As a result, the Landowners can no longer sleep well at night because they are in constant
5 fear for their safety because of the dangerous environment the Defendants have created.

6 66 Defendants, knowingly, intentionally, and maliciously prevent the Landowners from the quiet
7 use and enjoyment of their property in violation of Clark County Code, Las Vegas City Ordinances,
8 Nevada law and the CC&Rs.

9 67 Defendants, have caused the Landowners to be in constant and continuous fear of having 10 their homes demolished at any time. (See Exhibit 1)

11 68 Defendants, collectively or individually, have caused the Landowners to be constantly and 12 continuously in fear for the health and safety of their families because of the dangerous environment
13 created by Defendants. (See Exhibit 2)

14 69 The City has demolished or gutted the condominiums it owns in Decatur and Shalimar
15 Gardens which is a violation of the CC&Rs for which the Decatur and Shalimar Gardens are 16 governed and the City as an owner is contractually bound.

17 70 Most recently, the Landowners have been subjected to at least six separate fires which were 18 started in the immediate vicinity of their homes.

19 71 The Landowners and their families have suffered from breathing and other health problems
20 including severe headaches believed to be a result of the debris, dust, asbestos and other unknown
21 substances placed in the air by the Defendants during the Defendants' demolition of Decatur and 22 Shalimar Gardens.

23 72 The health and safety hazards created by Defendants prevent the Landowners' children from 24 playing outside. The parents of the Landowners' children's friends would not allow their children 25 to visit the Landowners' children at the subject property, their homes, because of the health and 26 safety hazards created by Defendants.

27 73 Nor could the Landowners' find babysitters to come to their home and watch their children
28 because of the dangerous environment created by Defendants.

74 The Landowners have suffered and continue to suffer irreparable harm and injury at the hands of the Defendants.

75 On February 16, 2005 the City Council approved an Exclusive Negotiation Agreement to sell the Subject property to McDonald and his company Alpha-Omega Strategies for private development.

76 The City, David Roark and McDonald acted in concert and conspiracy under the color of state law with the intent to remove private citizens from their property at below fair market value in order to resell the assembled property to McDonald's private company Alpha Omega Strategies, Inc.

77 The above actions constitute a conspiracy between all Defendants to deprive the Landowners of their constitutional right to privacy, to be secure in their private property and to receive just compensation.

78 The above actions are illustrative of a common course of conduct by the Defendants, namely the City and David Roark to force the Landowners to accept below fair market value for their property and/or to unlawfully take the Landowners' private property in order to provide said property to a private company for profit.

III.

CAUSES OF ACTION AGAINST THE CITY AND DAVID ROARK

FIRST CLAIM FOR RELIEF

Inverse Condemnation

79 The Landowners repeat and reallege each and every allegation contained within all previous paragraphs and by this reference incorporate the same as if though fully set forth herein.

80 The project for which the City has taken and/or damaged the Landowners' property is not for

82 The above-described actions by the City and David Roark amount to an unconstitutional

Landowners as an undivided Tenancy in Common.

1 83 The City's actions in failing to pay just compensation to the Landowners and the 2 unconstitutionally taking of their property are both violations of the United States and Nevada State
3 Constitutions which require a public use and the payment of just compensation.

4 84 Therefore, the Landowners are compelled to bring this Complaint for the unconstitutional
5 inverse condemnation of their property to recover just compensation for the taking of their property.

6 85 The requested compensation is in excess of ten thousand dollars ($10,000.00).

19 Nevada State Constitutions which require a public use and the payment of just compensation.

20 91 Therefore, the Landowners are compelled to bring this Complaint for the inverse 21 condemnation of their property to recover just compensation for the damage to their private property.

22 92 The requested compensation is in excess of Ten Thousand Dollars ($10,000.00).

24 THIRD CLAIM FOR RELIEF

25 Attorneys Fees, Costs, Appraisal Fees, and Expert Witness Fees

26 93 The Landowners repeat and reallege each and every allegation contained within all previous 27 paragraphs and by this reference incorporate the same as if though fully set forth herein.

1 just compensation on this federally funded project. Accordingly, the Landowners are entitled to all

18 fees and costs as provided by the CC&Rs.
19

20 FIFTH CLAIM FOR RELIEF

21 Negligence

22 100 The Landowners repeat and reallege each and every allegation contained within all previous

2 indifference to the constitutional rights of the Landowners.

3 105 As described in the foregoing, these duties were breached by the City.

4 106 As a direct and proximate result of the above-described conduct, the Landowners have 5 suffered and will continue to suffer damages in excess of Ten Thousand dollars ($10,000.00).

6 7 IV.

RE: Relocation of Electrical Weather Head & Meter Base,
Cable, Telephone & Water Service

Dear Ms. Egypt:

This letter is in response to a letter you wrote to Nevada Power, Sprint Telephone, and the Water District pertaining to services for your condominium unit at the above referenced address.

As you are aware, I wrote you a letter on April 26, 2004, notifying you that the building units the City owns would be abated of asbestos and would later be demolished. The electrical, telephone, and cable service that serves your unit is attached to the City's building. I notified you that you would need to make arrangements to have all of these services relocated onto your unit before we begin demolition of our units. You will also need to do whatever is necessary to gain separate water service to your unit.

I am again giving you notification in this letter that the City intends to demolish our buildings. The equipment servicing your building is unfortunately, located on City property. You will need to arrange for the services to be relocated on your own property. If no action is taken within sixty (60) days from the date of this letter, the City will begin the process of relocating these services off our property and the City will pursue legal actions for full reimbursement for all expenses incurred for such relocation and any appropriate attorney or court costs.

Hopefully, you will work with the City to facilitate a smooth transition of these services that are for your use only. If you care to discuss this matter in detail in order to work out an orderly relocation of these utilities, I urge you to give me a call at 229-1021.

Sincerely,
